Acknowledgements

Many thanks to the mayors and other local officials, project team members, and steering committee are deserved, but the greatest appreciation is felt toward the residents of the Nebo region themselves. With little to go on but their concern that their region would change in untold ways, residents accepted the challenge and started up a long learning curve of planning toward a brighter future. Untold hours of listening, learning, questioning, and offering insight were given to the project by concerned citizens. The workshops alone add up to one thousand hours of citizen contributions. Without their influence, the Nebo Community Vision would never have been achieved.

Education had to be a primary focus of the process, and the team was overwhelmed by the enthusiasm and progress made by the communities over the year. Most impressive was the cooperation between towns and the learning that took place from one another. We wish each community well and hope to see each one move down a new course, more prepared, enlightened, and positive about the possibilities the future may bring. Thank you for this opportunity. We learned a tremendous amount about your communities and their great potential.

A special thanks to all the mayors for taking part in the project, encouraging their towns, and participating in the South County Mayors' Group, a great supporter of the project.
